Coding Solutions

Healthy revenue cycle starts with quality documentation powered by timely, accurate and complete coding.

The quality of clinical documentation powerfully impacts the revenue cycle. The key to achieving trustworthy documentation is accurate and complete medical coding. Coded data provides the foundation for a patient's "clinical picture". The reliability of this picture is vital for delivering appropriate patient care, ensuring patient safety, and empowering efficient reimbursement.

Client Partners

Our team works with renowned academic medical centers, trauma facilities, independent providers, consulting companies, and legal entities. As a trusted revenue cycle partner, we establish long-term advisory and consulting relationships. Our coding services enhance revenue cycle efficiency, reduce administrative burdens, and improve workflow to support clients' mission-critical financial and patient care initiatives.

Proven Process & Performance Management

Our coding methodology follows a five-step process focusing on meticulous accuracy and completeness. The method includes accessing patient charts, pre-coding, CPT/HCPCS & ICD-10 coding, quality audits, and submission of coded charts. To ensure quality and value, managers provide performance oversight and continual assessment of our team's day-to-day-productivity. Ongoing communication and reporting ensure seamless client partnerships.

Expert Team

Our commitment to quality is unparalleled. Our multi-tiered hiring and intense onboarding process ensure the acquisition of top talent. As the ever-changing demands of the healthcare industry increase, e4health stays at the forefront by arming our coding team with up-to-date knowledge and industry best practices. Our professionals have the credentials, skill sets, knowledge, and passion for meeting clients' revenue cycle performance goals. We consistently achieve excellent coding quality ratings and maintain weekly monitored high productivity standards as required by our clients. Additionally, e4health provides internal quality assurance for every recurring long-term project and coder as well as timely and continuous feedback.

Continuing Education

Education is at the heart of our mission, and it permeates every aspect of our methodology. The e4health Intellis IQ Education Center, our online learning platform, keeps our team current on all aspects of the coding process while coders earn industry-approved CEUs. Ongoing coder education, aligned with our internal QA program, creates an environment for career-long learning and precise and accurate code assignment.

Our Commitment

As healthcare has evolved, the use of coded data has expanded with far-reaching implications for the patient care continuum and downstream functions that extend beyond the bottom line, such as research and hospital ratings. Our team of experienced and passionate professionals maintains the highest standards for coding accuracy and thoroughly understands the complexities of regulatory standards and rigorous compliance guidelines. We're committed to providing expertise and value. Facility, Pro-fee, and HCC Risk Adjustment coding are all in a day's work for our coding experts.
